EXCITING RACE PREJUDICE

A report of the speech of a Mexican republican orator at Laredo, which is copied in THE HERALD today from the Times of that city, shows a base and unworthy effort on the part of some supporters of Mr. Scott's candidacy for congress, to appeal to the narrowest, most hateful and most hurtful of sentiments—race prejudice. Such an act should and doubtless will be frowned upon by the respectable and intelligent element of the Mexican race living in this section. To tell them that the democrats are the enemies of their people in this state is not only absurd in the face of the facts, but it is also dangerous because of the effect it may have in stirring up hatred and revenge in the hearts of the more ignorant and unreasoning members of the race. THE HERALD feels that it is not speaking too strongly to denounce such efforts on the part of any politician as absolutely criminal. Its effects may be such as to fire those who accept such statements to deeds that may make criminals of their perpetrators and be costly indeed to the objects against whom their hatred is aroused. For the common welfare of all the people dwelling in this region, such a course as that of the Laredo orator and of other low politicians who have been guilty of the same offense, should be heartily condemned by all good citizens, be they Mexican, American or of other race origin.

The absurdity and falsity of the statements made by the blatant demagogue whose speech the Times reports is self-evident to any who observe the existing conditions in this section of the state. In the first place, the work of the public schools of Texas for the children of Mexican residents in this section is enough to show that there is no prejudice here against these people. Thousands of Mexican children are today receiving a free education in Texas, the gift of the state—and the state is in the hands of democratic officers, beyond a doubt. As the greater part of the Mexicans residing here are very poor, this is a bounty they should appreciate. Furthermore, the fact that many county offices are filled by Mexicans, who are in every instance elected on the democratic ticket, also goes to prove that there is no prejudice here against that race. Nowhere is this more plainly shown than in Cameron county, where out of nine county officers four are Mexicans and two others of Mexican descent, while every justice of the peace in the county is a Mexican, one county commissioner and every policeman in the town of Brownsville being also Mexican—and it may be added that these are all good, reliable and highly respected officers and men. And they are all democrats, and were elected on the democratic ticket or appointed by a democratic administration. These men and other intelligent ones of their race realize that this talk of the democrats being enemies to their people is all "rot," to use a slang expression. They know that every law-abiding man, no matter of what race, has the protection of the state laws, and that it is only the law-breakers that get into trouble. They also realize the danger that threatens this entire section if the counsel of such low political agitators as the Laredo orator should prevail amongst the excitable and less intelligent men of their race, and they will doubtless use their efforts to counteract such efforts. With the better informed people of whatever race, Mr. Scott's cause can only be injured by the resort to such base and unworthy methods on the part of his supporters.

Mr. Roosevelt has made another effort to end the coal strike by appealing to the miners to return to work without any concessions, promising to appoint a commission to investigate thoroughly the matters at issue and to do all in his power to bring about a settlement of these questions. The sincerity of the president's efforts to end the strike and avert the great national calamity which a great coal famine would cause, is not to be questioned, and he deserves credit for it. Should the miners yield to his appeal, they would prove themselves to be patriotic and would gain in the public estimation by so doing. Still, they cannot be blamed if they refuse to yield all, after so many months of endeavor, when it is plainly evident that the president has no power, whatever, to secure any thing for them from the coal operators after they have returned to work, even should his commission report in favor of the miners. It is sincerely to be hoped, though, in the interest of humanity, that the president's efforts to remedy the situation may be successful.

All roads will lead to San Antonio next Saturday, when the great International Fair opens. It promises to be a greater event than ever before.

CASE OF TELEPATHY.

A curious case of telepathy is reported from Athens. M. Lazare Lyritas, a Greek sculptor, was quietly talking to his wife, when suddenly he became greatly excited and began uttering incomprehensible phrases. When his excitement had subsided somewhat he told his wife that he had heard a voice saying that his brother's wife was dead. The sculptor and his wife noted the date and hour of this strange occurrence, and some days later a letter was received announcing that the lady in question had died exactly at this time at a place 600 miles distant.

They commenced the serious investigation of the specific Nov. 15, 1901. They interviewed scores of the secured and tried it out on its merits by putting over the three dozen cases on the treatment and watching them. They also got physicians to name chronic, incurable cases, and administered it with the physicians for judges. Up to Aug. 25, eighty-seven per cent of the test cases were either well or progressing favorably.

There being but thirteen per cent of failures, the parties were satisfied and closed the transaction. The proceedings of the investigating committee and the clinical reports of the test cases were published and will be mailed free on application. Address John J. ## DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation be destroyed forever, Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY, & Co., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by druggists 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

BUT THERE IS RELIEF, speedy and permanent, and a cure which is complete, in
